Something new

Romulus resident Alvenia Williams (center) looks over her new daughter, Regina, in the "preemie" nursery at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. Under a newly instituted program, the new mother can tend to her baby and feed her under proper supervision instead of just looking at her tiny daughter through the glass. Beaming their approval of the new system is Rita McNair, RN, left, supervisor of the obstetrical - Gynecology Department at the hospital, and Julie Zwinger, RN, who supervises the nursery operations. The new procedure was a year and a half in development and is a "first" for the nursery at Annapolis. — The Romulus Roman photo.

Moms care for 'preemies'

By KAY DeBORD
Of The Roman Staff

It's not unusual for a mother to change her new baby's diapers and feed it.

But when that baby is premature and in a hospital nursery Isolette, the simple maternal duties almost are unheard of.

After 1½ years of preparation, Annapolis Hospital in Wayne has changed all that.

Gowned, capped and scrubbed in the interest of avoiding contaminating their babies with outside germs, two mothers happily tended to their new infants, last week, in the hospital nursery and with experienced supervision.

Patricia Suyak of Wayne tenderly saw to the needs of her fifth child and only "preemie," Craig. The tiny boy had weighed only 3 lbs. - 8 oz. at birth, and his mother proudly claimed: "He's up to 3 lbs. - 12 ozs. now and he's 8 days old."

"I don't know what mothers did when they could look at their babies through glass," Mrs. Suyak said. "And it's even worse when you have to go home and leave them behind in the nursery."

Now the mothers who are discharged from the hospital while the tiny babies remain behind can come in, feed and change and cuddle the infants.

Also enthused about the innovation is, Rita McNair, RN, supervisor of the obstetrical - gynecology floor at the hospital, and Julie Zwinger, RN, who is head nurse for the nursery.

"Tender, loving care," or TLC, has long been advocated for the development of infants, particularly of premature infants, and for a new, especially a "first time" mother, the new relationship is especially rewarding.

Another mother enthused about caring for her own baby is Alvenia Williams of Romulus, who assured tiny Regina of a mother's love and attention while cuddling her baby in a rocker after a feeding.

Regina, who was two months premature, weighed 3 lbs. - 1 oz. at birth and now is a "husky" 4 lbs. - 3 ½ ozs., according to her mother.

The program, just recently underway at the hospital, has the approval of the hospital's Board of Directors; of Mrs. Kathleen O'Brien, director of nurses; Walter S. Wheeler, hospital administrator, and the pediatric and obstetrical - gynecology departments.

Teacher talks reach impasse

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Roman Staff

Negotiating teams representing the Romulus Board of Education and the Romulus Education Association (REA) have reached an "impasse" in current teacher contract talks.

After an continuous on-and-off bargaining session that ended at 1:30 a.m. Monday, School Supt. James Garfield announced that negotiations on a proposed new teacher contract have reached a stalemate and the Board of Education's negotiating team has requested that the procedures of fact finding be employed in an effort to reach an agreement.

Chris Powers, chief negotiator for the REA, said that fact finding has its merits but the REA prefers binding fact finding, if the procedure is agreed upon by the parties.

Pending a decision on the part of REA on the question of fact finding, no new negotiating sessions have been scheduled.

Garfield said the two parties are $200,000 apart in monetary benefits and five major issues remain to be negotiated. They include, in addition to salary hikes and fringe benefits, lesson planning, a strike prohibition clause and a matter involving additional department heads in the administration of the school district.

The Board of Education insists on a strike prohibition clause in the new contract, while the REA wants to go along with last year's contract language allowing teachers to strike under certain conditions.

The school board is willing to permit the REA to select one department head, not three as requested by the REA.

And the Board of Education want members of the teaching staff to attend weekly lesson planning sessions, Garfield said.

On Sept. 22, Romulus teachers voted to go on strike. By a vote of 149-121 the teachers gave their negotiating team the right to call a walk out if it deemed necessary.

As of yesterday the teaching staff still was at work—no strike had been called.

Police in need of public help

While it's important to have a police force to fight crime, sometimes their effectiveness depends on the concern of citizens.

Deputy Insp. James Haile, Romulus' chief of police for the city's contingent of Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, said that public participation in spotting crime for the 32 road officers had helped root it out in some areas of town.

"A concerned public can be extra eyes and ears for officers, making them even more effective than when they're on patrol," Haile said. "If a citizen sees something suspicious he should call the sheriff and inform him of the activity so a car can be dispatched to check it out."

"Haile added that an aroused citizenry which concentrates on watching its neighborhoods for anti-social activities has helped root out juvenile problems in Romulus' Meadows Subdivision near Middle Belt and Eureka roads.

"The citizens in the Meadows have taken it upon themselves to inform the sheriff of the activities of wrongdoers, and it has resulted in a drop in crime," Haile said. "If other citizens became as concerned, and simply picked up the phone and called, the sheriff may have a better chance at catching wrongdoers in the act, and prosecuting them."

Haile can be reached by calling 942-9660. Citizens with information on crimes in progress still should file their complaints with the Road Patrol dispatching headquarters, by calling 721-2222.

The Roman offers insurance

The cost of medical care continues to increase at an unprecedented rate. Many families discover that their insurance programs are not sufficient to cover the entire cost of treatment should a member of the family need treatment as a result of an injury.

Panax Newspapers has asked Continental Assurance Co. to design a supplemental policy at low cost especially for our readers. Panax Reader Insurance costs 50 cents a month—or $6 per year. The premium is collected by mail and policies issued to Panax readers for their examination prior to their first premium payment.

The Panax Reader Insurance Program pays in addition to any other existing program, including Medicare.

It covers:
Minor injuries—Common everyday first aid care is available through your local physician or an emergency room in a hospital or clinic. This low cost program provides benefits up to $21 for the doctor's treatment and care. Also included are X-ray benefits of $10 and an ambulance benefit of $10 for total maximum benefits of $41 for any one minor injury. There is no limit to the number of times you can collect.

Major injuries—Internal and external injuries carry benefits of lump sum payments from $5 to $400 depending upon the severity of the injury and the nature of the accident. Hospitalization benefits of $5 per day are included under this section, to a maximum of 80 days—or $400—in total benefits. The section for major injuries therefore provides benefits to a maximum of $810. The insured need not be disabled or hospitalized to collect lump sums for specific injury, as shown in the policy.

Accidental death—Benefits for accidental death or dismemberment vary from $2,500 to $15,000 when an accident occurs on an expressway. Accidents involving public transportation, taxi, bus, airplane, etc., carry benefits of $750 to $4,500. Benefits under this section, or other accidents not defined in "Exceptions" range from $125 to $750.

Panax Newspapers are proud to offer this new concept of accident insurance for their readers.

One treatment by your physician for a minor cut, burn or bruise and you receive the minimum benefit of $6—an amount equal to an entire year's premium. This truly is an old-fashioned bargain in an inflation-crazy world!

Of course, after you have received your policy and mailed your first premium payment to us, please contact the Reader Insurance Department of this newspaper for a claim blank and speedy claims payments on all accidents covered. For more information call 724-4460.

Work continues on 'mini' city hall

Work is well underway in Romulus to establish what amounts to a "mini-city hall" within the city's Meadows Subdivision.

Workmen from the Romulus Department of Public Works are busy renovating a 4-bedroom house in the subdivision to provide space for residents of the area to work out their own community problems.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt said that the city will have an information desk available to help residents of the subdivision understand their legal requirements under the law to maintain their structures, and to offer advice to them on ways to avoid losing their homes in hard economic times.

"I see the house as a resource center for the community's needs," Troutt said. "Not only will there be a full-time clerk on hand, but also I'm hoping to set up regular visits by such agencies as the consumer protection group from Wayne County and others who would have advice for residents."

Troutt has set no date for the official opening of the home, but indicates it will be in the relatively near future.

Renovation of the home is part of a continuing community plan to establish a credible program in the Meadows Subdivision to demonstrate that Romulus citizens care about the abandoned housing in the area.

City officials have applied to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for special homesteading grants available through the agency to renovate structures and develop a program to have them occupied.

More than 60 homes have been abandoned by their owners in the subdivision, located near Middlebelt and Eureka roads.

Officials have no idea when the department will make a decision on the grant request, which could bring as much as $500,000 to the city for rehabilitation work under a pilot program to solve HUD's growing abandoned housing problem.

Candidates discuss their running mates

The Roman received four responses to this week's Election Issue Forum question which was directed to all the candidates running for office in the November primary election.

Answering independently were Councilman Fred Junior Block, City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar and Councilman William M. Oakley. The Troutt Team of candidates for mayor, treasurer and council did not answer the question separately—one answer was submitted for the whole team. The team includes Terry L. Troutt, John B. Lewkowicz, Beverly McAnally, John Madish, Jean A. Lee, Jack H. Trumble and Lngg Coleman.

The Roman asked the candidates: "Although city elections in Romulus are non-partisan, why do you feel it necessary to run with a slate of candidates? or as an independent?"

It also asked the other candidates (not including mayor): "If you are a member of a slate, do you feel you can maintain individuality and free choice when you know that you may owe your election to the top slate member who backs you for office?"

"While I am running with two other candidates, we do not consider ourselves a slate," Block wrote. "We are a group of individuals who have joined together to share a cross section of ideas for the community as a whole."

"I have ran with the other two candidates since entering politics and there is no speculation as to whether I can maintain individuality. Over the last five years my record will indicate that I have voted as an individual on every issue."

The two other candidates Block is referring to are Folmar and Oakley.

Folmar wrote: "I am running unopposed, however, I am supporting Councilman Block and Oakley for re-election..."

"I have at all times acted individually, even though I have supported endeavors by other individuals or groups attempting to achieve good for the community."

And Oakley wrote: "I have chosen to run as an independent candidate because I firmly believe the citizens of Romulus deserve a balance between the administration and the council and, as an independent councilman, I can assert that balance.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Through this Election Issue Forum, voters in Romulus are able to read how different candidates feel about the city and its problems. The forum is provided in this handy clip-out format because we urge voters to save it for re-reading before the general election.

During the past five years, I have served with two totally different administrations and always have voted my convictions—sometimes supporting the administration and sometimes against—depending on whether the issue would be beneficial to the majority of the citizens of Romulus."

The Troutt Team answer to the Roman question is: "Experience has shown that a community stagnates with team work. The so-called independent candidacies foster jealousies, rivalry and a tug-of-war government and nobody benefits."

"The Troutt Team made careful study of the above principles when it first got together for the 1973 campaign. They pledged to cooperate on giving the city and the people what was considered necessary."

"Each team or slate member remains free of any political control."

The writer of the Troutt Team statement added: "Another way to look at team work is cooperation. Without cooperation, everyone is government would go in different directions and no one would pull together."

This question was addressed to all candidates running for office. Only the three independents and the Troutt Team answered.

Beavers survives collision

A 1974 graduate of Belleville High School will be recuperating for three months following a harrowing incident with a semi-trailer truck.

Rick Beavers, 19, of 7678 Marlowe St., Belleville, is in Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti following an accident Sept. 12 in Lansing.

According to the injured man's sister, Dawn Springer, Beavers was driving along a road in the Lansing area when a tandem trailer truck forced him off the road and through a culvert.

The Belleville man was taken to Sparrow Hospital in Lansing where he was in the intensive care unit for four days, and had to undergo an emergency operation to remove a blood clot from his abdomen.

In Beyer Memorial Hospital, the Belleville man also underwent surgery to repair damage to his knee.

Beavers will be in the Ypsilanti hospital for another three or four days, and then will be returned to his parent's home where he will recuperate. He is the son of George and Betty Beavers of 7678 Marlowe St., and is employed by the Draw Tite trailer Co. in Van Buren Township.

For children in Romulus

Preschool has openings

Mothers in Romulus have a chance to prepare their children for their kindergarten years, while salvaging a couple of hours of free time each week, by enrolling their children in the Romulus Preschool Nursery.

Located in the Community Methodist Church on Olive Street in Romulus, the nursery school is sponsored by the Western Wayne County YWCA as a means to educate children up to the age of four in the skills necessary for entering kindergarten.

"Plans this year are for group and singing games, finger songs, painting, art projects, story telling and field trips for the youngsters," said Mary Willoughby, program director for the YWCA. "The idea of the entire program is to provide a creative nursery experience for the younger children in the community."

Weekly sessions are held between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Monday or Wednesday for 4-year-olds and between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Tuesday or Thursday for 3-year-olds.

Extra enrichment sessions are scheduled for between 1 and 3 p.m. Thursdays and from 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Fridays for 4-year-olds.

Each session costs $1 per child.

Formed by Beverly McAnally and Jean Ursery in 1968, the nursery has grown to a school which can accommodate up to 100 children this year.

The original idea of the program, according to Mrs. McAnally, was to provide an enrichment experience for youngsters entering school in Romulus, while offering a few free hours to mothers in the community.

Mothers are requested to help to two sessions each nursery school year.

Mrs. Willoughby said that the program not only helps the children, but provides a means for parents to understand and learn more about child rearing.

Information on the nursery and arrangements for registration can be obtained by calling either Registrar Caroline Lewek or Nursery Chairman Ruby Ursery. Mrs. Lewek can be reached by calling 941-4829 and Mrs. Ursery by calling 941-4572.

FAA to display impact papers

Romulus-area residents who wonder what the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA) assessment of the environmental change expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport may cause to their homes will have an answer.

The FAA has announced that it is making available an addendum to the final environmental impact statement for the development of the airport in Romulus.

Ordered to be prepared by the Federal District Judge Cornelia J. Kennedy, the statement details the projected impact of aircraft overflights on Romulus-area residents from a proposed new northeast - to-southwest runway in the airport.

Located nearly a mile from the instrumented northeast - to-southwest runway, the proposed runway is to be 12,000 feet long and was to have cost more than $30 million to complete. The runway was destined to relieve an anticipated aircraft overload on the fully-instrumented runway now being used in the airport.

However, construction was halted, at a cost of $1 million per month, in late March until the environmental impact statement addition was prepared.

Since that time, Judge Kennedy has made the injunction permanent pending the filing of an environmental impact statement on a master plan for the airport.

No master plan has been drawn up, and would be years in the making.

The addendum to the existing statement will be available at the airport and in Detroit.

Documents can be viewed at the Project Director's Office, Mezzanine, L. C. Smith Terminal Building, Metropolitan Airport and in the Wayne County Road Commission Field Engineering Building, 358 Middlebelt Rd., Romulus.

In addition, the documents will be at the Road Commission headquarters, 415 Clifford St., Detroit.

Questionnaire to be mailed

The initiation of a lawsuit seeking damages from the Wayne County Road Commission in the expansion of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport awaits the results of a questionnaire of residents on their possible involvement in the proposed court litigation.

The questionnaire, which probably will be mailed within a week, will ask from 2,000 to 4,000 residents living in the vicinity of the airport if they want to get involved in the lawsuit to try to gain compensation for loss of residential property value because of the airport.

When the survey results are in a meeting will be scheduled to discuss the proposed court suit.

The possibilities of obtaining damages from the Wayne County Road Commission for inconveniences to residents and loss of tax base by the city were detailed by Attorney Jerrold Fadem at a recent meeting of concerned residents held in Romulus.

Fadem told the residents that they could win damages for their inability to sell homes and land in the city because of new federal regulations on noise standards for insuring mortgages in flight patterns for airports.

City and school officials could pursue a fight in the courts, too, for loss of a tax base and building damage for schools in the path of runways, Fadem said. The city also could sue for loss of tax base caused by the absorption of the water and sewer system for land and loss of roads without compensation by the airport expansion.

U.S. must lift arms embargo

In the next few days the House of Representatives fortunately has a chance to close a dangerous rift in the United States' web of overseas alliances by lifting the American arms embargo against Turkey.

The ban represented a reckless example of "ethnic politics" when it was imposed by Congress eight months ago. In the opinion of this newspaper and its sister publications in the Panax group, the sooner the strain in Turkish-American relations is removed the better.

By a vote of 9-6 the House Rules Committee now has cleared the way for floor action on legislation to allow the shipment of $185 million in arms for which Turkey previously had contracted and to give Turkey access to sales of military materials.

The question of whether Turkey could secure weapons hereafter through American aid grants would be determined in separate legislation.

The Senate already has approved a bill repealing the embargo. Those who want to see the old, warm Turkish-American relationship restored hope the House now will follow the Senate's lead and lift the ban before Oct. 12, the date of a Turkish national election.

Such a final action by the U.S. Congress, it was reasoned, would have a favorable impact on Turkish voters and tend to strengthen the position of the moderate government of Prime Minister Suleyman Demirel.

Congressmen, who believe they are winning favor in the eyes of their Greek-American constituents, want the vote delayed until after Oct. 12. It is hard to see how that strategy could help their constituents in America or, indeed, improve the lot of the hard pressed people of Greek extraction in Cyprus.

If the embargo failed to soften the Turkish position on Cyprus, how can anyone expect that more threats and more pressure will do anything but make the Turks raise their backs even higher?

Eight times in recent months the House has voted to keep the embargo in place despite warnings that the Turkish backlash resulting from the arms ban seriously has threatened United States intelligence gathering activities. Among American defense installations which the Turks now have closed are monitoring stations which enable U.S. experts to keep close tabs on Soviet military movements and weapons developments.

Greece's former military dictatorship, in a monumental miscalculation, touched off a chain of events in Cyprus which thus far have worked, unfortunately, only to the long range advantage of the Russians.

The Turks, fearing a Greek takeover of Cyprus, poured troops into the then independent island in the name of helping Turkish Cypriots. The end result was that Turkish troops gained firm control of 40 percent of that troubled Mediterranean island and 200,000 persons of Greek extraction were forced from their homes.

Naturally, Greeks and people of Greek ancestry everywhere would like to see something salvaged from that situation. Since the arms embargo has failed to help the situation, the obvious answer now is to restore good feelings between the United States and Turkey. Then the Ford administration can work to patch up Turkish-Greek differences — the only practical avenue left for reaching a Cyprus settlement.

The arms embargo was imposed by Congress in the first place on the grounds that Turkey violated a provision of the law by using American weapons, provided for defense of the Western Alliance, in the invasion of Cyprus.

This is true, but as the Turks pointed out, other U.S. Allies, including Greece and Israel, have violated this proviso with impunity. To single out Turkey for punishment constituted particularly harsh discrimination, in Turkish eyes.

As they see it

Many help with 'party'

To the editor: There are so many people who made Sept. 20, 1975, the 100th birthday of the old township hall, that we feel that it is very important to thank personally each and every person involved.

Our entire Van Buren Township Bicentennial group worked on our John Deere 10-speed bike project (this was won by James Collins), which was one part of our program. The Ed Schroeders, Carnahans and Jerry Maton who acted as cashiers for the days activities. To Nickerson Farms for the cake, Julie Stamper who baked it, Elton Gollwitzer, Kitty Hornkohl, Jan Wyman and Fred Domen who served the cake. To Mrs. Irene Ross, who came to our celebration to represent the Grange Association who originally donated the upper half of the hall. She is a 60-year member and one of the last two members. (Mrs. Ruby Miller had planned to attend but was not able to make it).

Jaycee members came to our rescue to lend a capable hand in transporting the large birthday cake, and came out to especially commemorate the day. To Bob Brandman, our own volunteer photographer. To the newspaper photographers who waited until we set up, and were so patient. To The Belleville Enterprise and the Ypsilanti Press which have helped so much all along the way.

Special thanks to National Bank of Detroit, the Cape Condominiums, Kureths, Mannings, Hamiltons, Burcroffs (Romulus), Capri Pizza, Dominos Pizza, and Foodville. Also to George Heifner for the electrical supplies.

For the Haunted Mansion, so successful that we have to open it again by popular demand (starts Oct. 18th — watch for dates and hours), we have listed all of the people who helped.

Walter Green, our chairman, and Shirley Carnahan, co-chairman. Gayle Patterson, makeup; Dave Pace, sound and lighting; Dorothy Green, ticket sales; Phyllis LaMance and family, Cathy Horste, Randy Barker, Dick DeBord, Dean Galvin, Veronica Hoops, Dorothy Embhoff, The French Family, Jerry Parr, Tim Pace, Kevin Carnahan, Marri Cullin, Linda Pace, The Springers, Dale Potter, Steve McLeod, Mark, Charlie and Marcia Domen, Jan Wyman, Mike Porzondek, Cathy Hubble, Delcie Jacysson, Rick Provost, Lillian Kromer, Bob and Dave Turner, Greg Winn, Bob and Larry Buchanan, Patrick Brooks and others. More than 1,085 people went through the Haunted Mansion and many more have called the township to see if this will be open again.

People are excited — this is a good place to be, and as Bicentennial believers and organizers there is a sense of pride that the support of the people is here. With all of this in mind, just wait until you see what we will do with it by the 18th.

Our next event will be a rummage, plant and bake sale on Oct. 11th at the Township Hall Community Building, at 9 p.m. We will have light refreshments available if you come early. On Oct. 21st, 7:30 p.m. we will once again have a general Bicentennial meeting, and all are invited who are interested. Our other ongoing project is our Wednesday, 11 a.m. bingo — all proceeds go to the support of the Bicentennial activities, and you are invited to come and play in comfortable chairs in an extremely comfortable atmosphere. Once again we extend our thanks to each and every one in our community that makes this all possible.

Worst street

To the editor: This is an open letter to the Wayne County Road Commission.

For years I've complained, and rightly so (Elwell Road has got to go!) Repair, replace, do something I plead, the roads in our township are sorely in need.

I've dreamt of the day when firsthand you would know, the thrill one gets when your car is in tow!

Is there one among you brave enough? To travel these roads takes real stuff. So what if you lose your muffler at first, cause then you'll know, Elwell is worst.

She appreciates help

To the editor: The total collections for muscular dystrophy in the 1975 drive have been finalized. The amount is $2,033.67.

I commend the response of contributions received and wish to extend special thanks and appreciation to the Romulus Progressive Club for its most generous gift of all. The club, which has aided numerous organizations and children over many, many years, should be highly regarded by all citizens of Romulus.

I also gratefully acknowledge the efforts of all the women who so graciously and willingly contributed their time on June 3 in the house-to-house campaign.

The personal donations received from friends, employees from the Romulus City Hall, Department of Public Works and the Urban Renewal Office also were greatly appreciated.

To all business places that helped to display the canisters also are greatly appreciated in the fight to conquer the dire effects of muscular dystrophy.

God bless all these wonderful people who gave from their hearts and will continue to help more than 250,000 Americans, mostly children, afflicted with this dreadful disease.

For when you give you help a child to live.

Welfare abuse must be cut

To the editor: The cost of welfare for the taxpayers of the State of Michigan during the fiscal year 1975-76 will approximate $1 billion. Additionally, the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare matches the state, almost dollar for dollar. Therefore, the total expenditure of our tax dollars, from a state and federal standpoint, will be close to $2 billion. On the average, welfare is costing each taxpayer $450 annually.

With the adverse economic situation in Michigan, created by excessive taxes, unwise laws, inflation and a generally unfavorable business climate — which makes our industry less and less competitive with those in other states — an alarming migration of industry from Michigan is occurring. It is imperative, therefore, that every taxpayer, and other concerned persons, join together to reverse this trend, which could lead to bankruptcy.

Michigan ranks with California in having the highest total state and local tax burden on all the states. A recent survey by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has shown that abuses in the Michigan Welfare System are costing us more than $76 million annually. Some of the underlying causes are:

1. Forty three percent of the 932,000 welfare recipients get an incorrect grant.

2. More than 60,000 people receiving welfare benefits don't legally qualify to receive one penny.

3. The combination of those who are ineligible and those who are overpaid is costing taxpayers annually, more than $58 million in state and federal funds.

4. Michigan does not have a work requirement for persons on welfare. Welfare recipients can refuse to work even when good jobs are available.

5. The Michigan Department of Social Services admits there is a "Robinhood Syndrome" among some case workers, who give higher grants than are legally permitted.

6. Fraudulently cashed checks cost Michigan banks and retailers $2 million each year.

7. Welfare recipients are automatically qualified to receive food stamps. If 8 percent of those on welfare are totally ineligible to receive benefits, a minimum of $10 million could be saved on food stamps alone.

8. Administration by bureaus could be reduced, resulting in the savings of millions of dollars. Currently, the distribution of food stamps and payment of welfare benefits are handled by different bureaus, making it difficult to control and monitor the administration.

9. No photographic identification cards are issued presently, which makes the cashing of checks subject to frauds and cheats. In 1973 alone, $750,000 was paid out in lost, stolen or forged checks.

10. Out-of-state recipients of welfare benefits are costing, during this fiscal year, Michigan taxpayers more than $1 million.

We have a challenging opportunity to demonstrate our opposition, not against the giving of assistance to those who qualify and are really in need, but to the flagrant and costly abuses which are existent in the Michigan Welfare System. Bear in mind a number of counties administer programs on a commendable level.

On Oct. 15, there will be a rally on the steps of the State Capitol in Lansing at 11:30 a.m. to protest the welfare excess now existent. You are urged to enlist your friends, neighbors and acquaintances and form an automobile caravan to drive to Lansing and show the legislative leadership that you want these abuses corrected now by their support of Senate Bill 576.

A bill of which Senator Robert D. Young is one of the co-sponsors. The companion House Bill is 5437.

The time is limited to exert your influence as a concerned citizen and taxpayer in pushing welfare reform. Let's give support to that small group of legislators who are working for constructive welfare reforms and desperately need the assistance of thousands now, as never before. Remember, without an aroused public support welfare reform is doomed to failure because of the political pressures of those who want to maintain the status quo.

The Enterprise-Roman is committed to bringing the Bicentennial closer to our readers. And as part of that effort, a series, "The Michigan Big Story," will be published weekly. The 76-part series includes topics which contributed to the shaping and direction of the State of Michigan. The impact which this series is certain to have will provide a legacy for future generations of readers as they look back on what we did to celebrate the Bicentennial in Michigan, according to the Michigan American Revolution Bicentennial Commission. The series is being prepared by the commission.

SAULT STE. MARIE (June 18, 1855) — The steamship "Illinois" became the first ship to pass through the new Sault Canal and Locks connecting Lakes Huron and Superior.

The Canal, connecting the two great lakes is a mile and a seventh long. Its two locks are 350-feet in length, 70-feet wide and 12-feet deep.

The project was completed in less than two years under extremely adverse weather conditions.

John Burt, superintendent of the new canal, said the opening of the canal and locks will "allow cheaper, faster and more efficient transportation of the copper and iron ore that are so vital to the economy of Michigan and the nation."

Charles T. Harvey, 25, supervised the building of the canal. He said that the project was particularly difficult because of the weather.

"Much work was done in winter, with temperatures going down to 35 degrees below zero," he added.

Former governor now senator Lewis Cass said that the new canal and locks will open new mineral fields in the Upper Peninsula.

"The prodigious resources of the copper and iron are only beginning to be known, but they already are assuming a national importance," Cass said.

"This canal opens commercial vistas of the greatest value to our growing nation," he added.

Post office offers complaint card program

A nationwide Consumer Service Program, designed to improve and broaden the quality of mail service, has been set up, according to Postmaster R.J. O'Neil of Belleville.

Beginning today the U.S. Postal Service will introduce a program at the Belleville Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service.

At the core of the program is a consumer service card, through which problems are identified and which postal managers attempt to resolve expeditiously.

The Consumer Service Program reflects Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailer's determination that mail service to the public will be "friendly, courteous and efficient, as well as speedy and reliable."

"Good service is a far broader concept than just fast mail handling, as important as that is," the Postmaster General said. "It also is built on employee courtesy, our responsiveness to customer needs, the sympathy and understanding we bring to your own expectations of what good postal service is all about."

O'Neil urged customers of the Belleville Post Office to bring their inquiries and complaints to the attention of postal managers. And if people feel their problems have not been handled properly, they should see him personally, the Postmaster said.

To make it easier for a customer to make a suggestion or complaint about postal service, the new consumer service card will be available from letter carriers and at post offices.

According to O'Neil, the card is two postal cards with carbon paper between them.

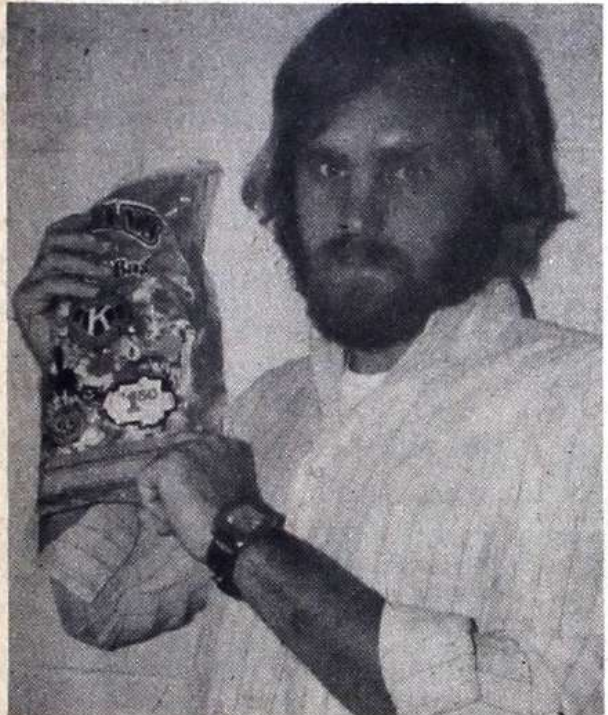

"One copy goes to me so work can begin on the problem," he said. "The other goes to Postal Service Headquarters in Washington for cataloging and analysis. The cards will help management spot problem areas and trends and take corrective action, if necessary." The Consumer Service

Program was tested earlier this year in Illinois, Massachusetts and Arizona.

HALLOWEEN TREATS — The Belleville Kiwanis Club will be selling bags of Halloween candy, offering residents some sweet treats for the annual trick-or-treaters. The candy which costs $1.50 per bag, will be available throughout this month with proceeds to be used to further the Learning Center Program in the schools and other children-oriented projects. Showing off a bag of the sweets is Kiwanian Ray Gross.

Banks' reward plan trims robbery rate

The reward program initiated last February by the Detroit Clearing House

Banks is credited with helping solve 51 bank robberies in its first seven months of operation.

As of Sept. 1, FBI figures show that $12,000 has been paid out in rewards for information leading to 15 arrests.

Apparently the success of the program is recognized by potential robbers. The FBI reports that there have been 48 bank robberies within the City of Detroit so far this year, compared with 79 for the same period last year.

Member banks of the Detroit Clearing House Association — National Bank of Detroit, Detroit Bank and Trust, Manufacturers, Commonwealth, City National and Michigan National — developed the program with the FBI's cooperation. Also participating now are Security Bank & Trust of Southgate, Peoples Bank of Trenton, Wyandotte Savings Bank and Liberty State Bank & Trust of Hamtramck.

Under the plan, which applies throughout the 3-county Detroit metropolitan area, $1,000 rewards are offered to citizens who provide information leading to the indictment of holdup suspects, a process which usually takes about 10 days after arrest.

Bank officers said new security measures, including the installation of protective glass at teller cages, also have been a factor in reducing holdups.

Rating pleases LIT dean

The accreditation of Lawrence Institute of Technology's (LIT) School of Engineering by the Engineers Council for Professional Development has a special meaning for a Belleville man.

Dr. Stephen R. Davis of Belleville is the dean of the school.

The engineers council recently conferred the accreditation of the engineering school, allowing students to earn degrees in construction, electrical and mechanical engineering, permits LIT to be listed as an approved institution offering professional engineering curricula.

In the past, the school has been accredited by the North Central Association.

LIT has offered mechanical and electrical engineering since the founding of the college in 1932 and added the construction engineering curriculum in 1969.

State officials say

VW in Michigan: We build cars, don't we?

By BOB BERG
Panax Lansing Bureau

A Volkswagen assembly plant in Michigan? Somebody must be having daydreams, right?

Not really. The truth is that Volkswagen is preparing to put a plant in this country. And despite all the concerns that Michigan already is too dependent on the auto industry, state officials are panting to get that plant here.

The desire was highlighted when the Michigan Economic Action Council made a series of 20 recommendations, one of which was that the state use all its charms to lure the VW plant to Michigan.

The council is a bipartisan group put together under the joint sponsorship of Gov. William G. Milliken and the Democratic leadership of the Legislature. It has two assignments: the first was to make some short term recommendations to get Michigan healthy, and second, to take a long range look.

The VW recommendation, which normally might have been part of a long range program, came in the short term report for good reason. VW is on the verge of making a final decision on where to put a U.S. plant.

Tony Schumaker, the president of Volkswagen, has been quoted in trade publications as saying a final decision will be made before Christmas. The company's first choice is to come over in partnership with an existing U.S. company and talks have been held with Chrysler and American Motors. But if that doesn't work out, VW is going to go it alone.

The company's decision to come to the U.S., where it sells one-third of its cars, with a plant has been a tortured one. Its Board of Directors forced out the first president, Rudolf Leiding, who pushed for the move. Then Schumaker made an independent study after he took over and reached the same conclusion — forcing the company to go ahead with the move.

State Commerce Department officials have been talking to VW officials for several years, singing the praises of Michigan, but there has been little high level communication. The council decided to make the VW section part of its report in an effort to let VW know there is no reluctance to have a major foreign automaker locate in the home of the U.S. auto industry.

"We must be sure that these (VW) officials know that they will be welcomed in our state and that government, industry and labor leaders wish to facilitate their location in Michigan," the report said. "There is no better place in our country than Michigan for the production of automobiles."

"We have the resources, the skilled labor, the supporting services and the right environment for providing an optimum location to this manufacturer."

Significantly, the council membership includes General Motors Board Chairman Thomas Murphy, Ford Board Chairman Henry Ford II and UAW Vice President Douglas Fraser.

The council recommended formation of a group, including the governor and leaders from the auto industry, labor and the Legislature, to make direct overtures to VW's top management. That is being done.

While there is some question about further increasing the reliance on the auto industry in Michigan's economy, the fact is that foreign carmakers, such as VW, haven't had the severe slump the U.S. carmakers have experienced. Foreign carmakers, who have been far ahead of the U.S. in engineering small, economical yet roomy cars, have captured 20 percent of the total market this year while the domestic automakers try to catch up.

Michigan missed out on the first foreign automaker to decide to expand over here when Volvo elected to build a plant in Virginia. Now, with VW on the verge of a decision which will mean millions of dollars to whoever wins the site, state leaders from both the public and private sector want to make sure they give the project their best shot. That way, should VW still decide to go elsewhere, the Michigan leaders will know it wasn't because they didn't try.

Majors joins service panel

Belleville resident Henry Majors has been elected to the Wayne County Civil Service Commission by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Majors becomes the second black man to be elected to that post in the history of the county as well as the second newly-named commissioner within the past month.

Joan M. Pettipren, the first woman to serve on the commission, was elected in August. Both Majors and Mrs. Pettipren were nominated by County Commissioner Royce E. Smith of Belleville.

Majors is a former vocational education teacher and businessman who is semi-retired, but still operates a heating and cooling service, in addition to being involved in several community activities.

Currently, he is president of the southern Wayne County Heart Unit, vice-president and state trustee of the State Delegate Assembly of Michigan Heart and a member of the Board of Directors 15th District Republican Party.

Smith said the appointment of Majors, who is black, was in line with a policy of having one black person on the Civil Service Commission. Majors filled a vacancy created by the resignation of Theodore Stephens, a black attorney. Majors' term expires Dec. 31, 1976.

"Majors" is eminently qualified to serve and has a lengthy record of public-oriented service," Smith added.

His past activities include the Detroit Board of Education for 15 years, member of the AFL-CIO and Teamsters, trustee of Sumpter Township, commissioner of parks and recreation, public safety and police and fire departments and on the committee that set up the Wayne County Community College boundaries.

Following his election, Majors said: "I am anxious to begin my new job and hope to establish even closer ties with county commissioners, the people who have to decide how best to spend the money."

The 3-member Civil Service Commission oversees the merit system under which nearly 8,000 Wayne County employees are hired, promoted and disciplined.

Belleville rips Parkers

...Now for Livonia Bentley

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Displaying its best defense in recent years and unleashing a potent offense, Belleville buried Allen Park 27-0 to break a 2-game losing streak and win its initial Suburban 8 Conference football victory of the young campaign.

Coach Pat Stokes' Tigers amassed a total of 318 yards, rushing for 231 of those, while the defense contained the listless Allen Park ballcarriers during the night. The victory evened up Belleville's record to 1-1 in the league.

Quarterback Dan Scripser put Belleville on the scoreboard early in the first quarter when he combined with Russ Rooks on a 21-yard touchdown pass.

The senior QB later in the quarter went over from the one to help build up a 13-0 lead.

Belleville struck for two more touchdowns in the second quarter as Scripser found Harold Dennis open for a 29-yard scoring toss and Kevin Barnes came up with a 15-yard off-tackle touchdown sprint to account for the final TD of the game.

"It was an important game for us," Stokes stressed. "It established the fact that we can play with at least the rest of the teams in our league."

"I also have to commend both the offense and the defense for an excellent all-around performance against Allen Park," Stokes continued. "We had possession of the ball most of the night."

The facts bear Stokes out. Allen Park had the ball for 16 plays as compared to Belleville's 31 while the Tigers won the duel of first downs 14-6.

Barnes turned in one of his finest rushing efforts of the season as he compiled 83 yards on 15 tries and Scripser counted 49 yards in 10 carries and also found his target 7 of 9 attempts for an additional 87 yards. Guard Mike Smithers and center Tom Bower teamed with tackle Jeff Bramble to open up the holes for Tiger backfield while linebacker Chuck Brazeale and Roy Rutherford stood out defensively.

"When you score the first four times you get the ball, it shows that the boys are executing well and doing their jobs," Stokes pointed out. "And we're going to have to do even better this week."

For the first time in recent years Belleville gridders also didn't commit a turnover.

Belleville will host always-stubborn Livonia Bentley Friday night.

Romulus bows to Warren

A breakdown in the specialty team during the second quarter proved fatal for Romulus which lost a 43-20 football decision to Warren Cousino Saturday.

The loss dipped the Eagles' record to 1-2 on the year.

Romulus blew a 7-0 first quarter lead as the visitors took advantage of a couple of Romulus mistakes to score three times in the last minutes of the first half.

"It was the strangest game I have ever taken part in," said Tom Baldwin, Romulus' second year head coach. "And if I were to pinpoint our loss I would have to place the blame on our specialty teams."

Baldwin pointed out that his team had more total rushing and passing yardage than the Warren contingent but that the visitors managed to pick up 158 yards against his specialty teams. And a hunk of that yardage was a 7-yard punt return for a touchdown.

Romulus got on the board first when Kevin Flannery sprinted in on a 5-yard option play and Bob Blundell's successful extra point kick made it 7-0.

Flannery's TD capped a 63-yard sustained drive engineered by senior quarterback Michael Morrison who alternated with Flannery on the rushes. One of the big plays in that series was a 20-yarder earned by Tony Hensley's reception.

Romulus appeared on its way to its second win in three starts when the proverbial ceiling collapsed on the Eagles.

Warren had the ball for six plays in the first 12 minutes, however, they countered by controlling the game from there. Cousino QB Jeff Ragland combined with Al Sharp on a 30-yard touchdown pass and Sharp came back after an exchange of downs with a 70-yard punt return to score what proved to be the go-ahead touchdown.

In 1½ spread, Warren had come from behind and taken command 16-7.

Morrison got the Eagles back on the board with 1:03 left in the opening half, sneaking in from 1-yard out. That TD capped a 54-yard, 6-play drive which featured a couple of first down pass completions to Don McMann and Hensley.

The Eagles only other score also was the result of a 3-yard Morrison quarterback sneak. That was set up by Flannery's 21-yard run which ended two yards short of the goal.

Blundell also kicked two of the three extra points. Flannery proved to be the offensive leader as he gained 44 yards in 16 attempts. Morrison's 7-of-16 passing game accounted for 75 yards.

Romulus runs up against Ann Arbor Huron (2-1) which is coming off of an impressive 21-0 victory over Willow Run.

"Ann Arbor has a very strong ground game which we must contain," said Baldwin. "They had over 300 yards rushing against Willow Run — so that's the kind of team we'll be facing."

Earlier, Romulus evened a score with Oak Park, shutting out the Metro West Conference representative 6-0.

The victory avenged last year's 7-6 defeat and provided second year Romulus Coach Tom Baldwin and the Eagles with their first triumph of the young campaign.

"When you don't let your opponent score, you know you are doing the job," said Baldwin.

Scoreless the first three quarters, Romulus put what proved to be the decisive touchdown on the boards in the first minute of the last period.

Kevin Flannery went in from the 10-yard line on an option providing the Eagle Baldwin's Eagle dropped their second decision in three starts 43-20. Romulus will take on Ann Arbor Huron Friday night in hopes of evening up a 1-2 over-all record. — The Enterprise-Roman photo.

Belleville wins

Belleville South took on four teams for its cross country opener and emerged atop of the pack.

Coach Dave Medley's harriers scored 38-team points in beating back the foursome of Belleville North (48), Trenton (59), Farmington Power (97) and East Junior High (138).

Bob Oakley was South's first finisher as he crossed the 2-mile finish in 11:25. Teammate Gary Roach placed third in 11:43 while South captured the 10th, 11th and 12th places with Brian DeRousse (12:18), Ray Bryne (12:26) and Larry Smreka (12:32) respectively.

Romulus Junior High destroys Haston, 68-0

Romulus' Junior High had three touchdowns called back on it when Coach Bill Thomas's gridders opened up the season a couple of weeks ago.

They had to settle for a scoreless tie with John Hill, an Inkster-based junior high school. So, to make sure that didn't happen in their next outing, the Romulus Junior High team went to work and carved out and up a Dearborn Heights Haston ball club 68-0. "We tried almost everything to keep the score down," explained

Thomas, "but it's very difficult to tell a player who's carrying the ball not to score when he sees the goal line open." Quarterback Darrell Lewis scored on a 70-yard punt return and he also went in for his second goal on a 12-yard option for his second TD of the game. Kevin Wilson's contribution included a 3-yard touchdown plunge and the rugged fullback came back for his second tally on a 24-yard sweep. Romulus also received TD's from tailback Jerry Wright, one a 42-yard sweep; Contel Hayden, also a 41-yard and a Lewis pass to Kevin Gibson, good for 27-yards, accounted for another scores. Meanwhile, the Romulus defense also titled the scoreboard a couple of times. Keith Stout intercepted a pass and ran it back 37-yards for a touchdown and John Gray picked off an aerial and carried it back 34-yards for a TD. "What can you say when your team beats another by the score we did," Thomas added. "The boys went out and played ball." Seven players also counted 2-point conversions. They included

Wayne Jones, Shawn Green, John Beattie, Mark Sullivan, Dave Golden, George Houle, and Kevin Gibson. Romulus is back in action today when it hosts a 3:30 p.m. game against Belleville South. Thomas doesn't expect it to be lopsided as the Haston game. "South always has fine football teams," he said.

Ypsi ruins Cougars' Homecoming game

The Cougars first game was their best one with the Ypsilanti Braves. The Belleville Freshmen gridders came away with a 7-0 victory, however, their teammates, the Junior Varsity and Varsity lost to the Braves who spoiled Belleville's Homecoming ceremonies by winning two of the three games.

The Freshmen broke a scoreless first quarter when Scott Thompson capped a 20-yard drive to score from 2-yards out in the second quarter.

Quarterback Sam Villa again handed off to Thompson for the extra point and that was all either team scored for the day.

The Belleville Junior Varsity learned it was no match for its peers as the Braves outplayed their hosts 19-0.

In the third game, Ypsilanti hung on to defeat the Cougars 20-13 as the Belleville gridders wasted Mark Daroci's 12-yard touchdown run and John Memering's TD.

Scoreless the first quarter, Ypsilanti broke the deadlock early in the second period to take the lead 7-0. However, Daroci came back to score on a handoff from quarterback Tim Ralls, but the extra point failed, leaving the Cougars on the shortend of a 7-6 margin.

Belleville took the lead in the third quarter as Ralls used Memering on the option and he scampered in from 12-yards out.

The Cougars lead lasted until the early minutes of the fourth period when Ypsilanti tied it up at 13-all, then with 2 minutes left, the Braves scored what proved to be the winning touchdown.

The games were highlighted by Homecoming festivities and the crowing of the three queens. Cindy Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, was crowned the 1975 Varsity Queen, while the Freshmen Queen was Carolyn Castleberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Templemen of Belleville.

Lori Gott was named the Junior Varsity Queen and she was crowned by the 1974 Queen Tammy Winekoff.

AUTO FACTS

by Jr. Kosin

Several years ago, authorities tell us, the styling sections of automobile companies changed their names. Today they are called design divisions. This change signified a new emphasis on car design which could incorporate the beautiful and the functional. It is probably safe to say that the car of the 1980's will reflect continuing efforts to adapt machine to man, rather than vice versa. Perhaps this will help eliminate some of the minor annoyances and deficiencies that are present to some degree in practically every auto.

Get rid of minor annoyances in your foreign or domestic car by picking up the parts and accessories you need at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster. Specialty team falters

The Eagles marched 43-yards in eight plays and maneuvered into position for the kill when quarterback Michael Morrison connected on a 27-yard aerial with split end Don McMann.

Oak Park didn't give up easily. They saw a couple of solid threats dissipate because of turnovers.

Romulus also muffed a chance to get on the big board in the opening half when the Eagles reached the Oak Park 7-yard line late in the initial half and had to settle for a field goal attempt. That 25-yarder by Bob Blundell missed its target.

The Eagles also fumbled on the Oak Park 23 yard line as time ran out on them.

Morrison found his target seven of his 13 attempted passes which gave the Eagles 55-yards. Flannery also rushed for 34-yards on seven attempts.

Leading the Romulus defense were tackles Jim Haislip and Ed Abbott. Haislip counted six solos while the hefty Abbott had five. McMann chipped in with two interceptions, bringing his total of steals to three on the season.

"I feel our defense has jelled," Baldwin said. "But, we have to start putting more points on the board."

Romulus runners off to a winning start

Romulus harriers got off to a winning start as Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles flew past River Rouge 19-45 in their season's dual meet opener.

Denardo Green and Joe Schieda provided the winners with a 1-2 finish as they hit the wire in 17:40 and 17:41 respectively.

Trailing the two Romulus runners were teammates Wendall Buckley and Robert Lemmon who finished fourth and fifth with 10:02 and 18:09 performances. Jeff Warren (18:28) and Steve Zimmerman (18:35) had the seventh and eighth best times while John Golden finished 10 in 18:43.

"Though the times are not that good," said Wilkerson, "I felt the kids ran well. I know we will improve as the season progresses."

With Buckley out of the lineup nursing a cold, Romulus earned its second victory of the season at the expense of Flat Rock, 20-41.

Green trailed Flat Rock's Kim Sharp to the wire. The Rock's runner posted an impressive 16:27 for the 3-miles. Green registered an 18:35 over the sloppy, raindrenched course.

Romulus harriers then nailed down the third through seventh places respectively as Steve Zimmerman, Bob Lemmon, Jeff Warren and Joe Schieda and Harvey Wilson trotted across the finish line.

Rouge was Romulus's next victim as Coach Wilkerson's runners made it three straight 19-41.

"All our kids ran well," Wilkerson said. "I feel we're maturing into an excellent team."

Green and Schieda provided the Eagles with a 1-2 finish. Green posted the winning time of 17:40, one-tenth of a second better than Schieda's second place time.

Game ends 55-6; HuronChiefs lose

"It's something we definitely won't forget for a while."

With that, Tom LaBeau served notice to Tecumseh which embarrassed New Boston Huron 55-6 Friday night, "that the Chiefs will be back."

"Sure, we're disappointed in our team's showing," said LaBeau, who is trying to put together a winning football program at Huron. "But, I'm proud of our kids for sticking in there and playing until the last minute."

The loss, Huron's third this season, proved doubly costly as junior quarterback Craig Beattie, reinjured his hip which sidelined him for most of the game.

Beattie was hurt in the first quarter during the second series of plays and, "it's difficult to say if he'll be ready for Monroe Jefferson (1-2) Friday night," according to the Huron coach.

"Monroe is a much-improved team," LaBeau noted, "and they managed to move the ball against Flat Rock. In fact they picked up in the vicinity of 300 yards in that game, so we're going to have to get ready."

Huron averted its 12th shutout in 13 games by scoring the fourth quarter. Jeff Stoker stepped in front of a Tecumseh lateral and returned it 30-yards for a touchdown.

The Chiefs' bid for the extra point failed.

LaBeau said that he saw some improvement in his team's game, but that "the over-all performance was poor."

Like a pretty gal, Coho is 'hard to catch'

By DON UMPHREY
Panax News Service

What do coho and chinook salmon have in common with a beautiful girl?

Like many women, the salmon are much sought-after, but they are playing "hard to get."

Anglers continue to line up shoulder to shoulder for the anticipated salmon run on the Huron River at Flat Rock but most are walking away empty handed.

It is believed that most salmon are congregating in the northern portions of Lake Erie and in the deep waters of the Detroit River waiting for water temperatures on the Huron River to cool off enough to make it comfortable for them. The salmon prefer water temperatures in the mid to high 50s.

Big schools of salmon have been spotted about three miles south of the Detroit Light in Lake Erie and near Belle Isle in the Detroit River.

A few salmon have arrived at the Flat Rock impoundment already and can be seen porpoising and breaking water, but frustrate fishermen when they refuse to strike.

Most of the salmon that have been caught at Flat Rock have been foul hooked. There have been some salmon and steelheads hitting Little Cleos and other types of spoons.

One thing that has encouraged officials at the Department of Natural Resources has been verified reports of salmon successfully making the big leap over the big dam at Flat Rock. This means that there will be salmon angling up the Huron River through Lower Huron Metropolitan Park to the dam at the base of Belleville Lake.

In their urge to go upstream to spawn, the salmon will be halted at the Edison Dam in Belleville and may congregate at the base of the dam. Conservation officer Ed Pike, who patrols the Belleville Lake area, reports that one or two salmon have been seen in futile attempts at making it up the spillway of the Edison dam.

So far, though, no catches of salmon have been reported above the dam at Flat Rock. It is believed that any salmon that can manipulate the 10 to 12-foot jump at Flat Rock will be a chinook, generally regarded as a stronger swimmer than a coho.

The Huron River from the Edison dam downstream to its mouth at Rockwood and several other streams in the state are open to salmon snagging under rules adopted by the state in August.

In spite of a lot of publicity given to the new regulations, conservation officers say that many persons have been caught using illegal gear. When questioned about breaking the law, most plead ignorance to the new restrictions under the so-called "liberalized" salmon fishing.

Outlawed are weighted treble hooks. Instead, those wishing to foul hook fish must use conventional gear with treble hooks not exceeding three-eighths inch from point to shank or single hooks not bigger than one-half inch from point to shank.

Also outlawed are lures which have a hook rigidly attached by soldering, fastening or other methods. This eliminates some snagging hooks made of lead which are shaped like a fishing lure and some more conventional lures such as the weedless spoon and jig.

Legal artificial baits for snagging are those from which the hooks dangle from the lure, usually by a metal ring.

It's against the law to attach a sinker to the lure itself, although weight can be affixed to the line, either above or below the lure.

Following these guidelines, fishermen can keep any foulhooked salmon, but must return all other species of fish, including steelheads, which have been running up the Huron River with the salmon.

Both the Huron River and the Cass River will be open to snagging until Dec. 31.

Other rivers will be closed earlier for protection of the steelhead and brown trout.

PSC hears reasons

Ma Bell may get info call charge

Hearings into Michigan Bell's request to charge for heavy use of information service have concluded before the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC) during which the PSC professional supported charging for information calls, but recommended a plan that provides a more liberal calling allowance than the company had proposed.

Either plan would save telephone customers about $10 million annually in basic rates.

The company estimated that, under either plan, only about 5 percent of its customers would incur any charge at all for information calls in any given month.

The plan advocated by the PSC staff would allow customers four free calls to information monthly and also would give each residence customer a monthly credit on his bill.

Like Michigan Bell's plan, calls above the allowance would be charged 20 cents each. Michigan Bell had proposed to limit the monthly allowance to three calls.

The Commission staff agreed with Michigan Bell that exemptions from the 20-cent charge should be granted to persons with visual, physical or mental limitations who have difficulties using the telephone directory.

In testimony before the PSC, Donald M. Lambe, the company's assistant vice-president for revenues, stressed that Michigan Bell's proposal is not designed to increase profits, but to redistribute information costs in such a way that the heavy users of the service pay their fair share while moderate or infrequent users pay little or nothing.

Under cross-examination, Lambe reemphasized that Michigan Bell does not plan to lay off operators.

The company said it would be sometime in 1977 before information charging could begin and, by that time, the operator force would be adjusted through attrition without layoffs.

Based on its 5-year growth forecast, Michigan Bell added that even with the information charging plan the company will require as many operators in 1980 as it has today.

Generally, calls to information have been rising at a rate twice as fast, as the overall increase in telephones, Lambe said. And the costs of providing the service continue to escalate at an even faster rate.

It will cost Michigan Bell a record $25 million to provide information service this year and, if calling volumes and wages continue to go up as they have in the past decade, the annual cost will soar to $50 million within the next 10 years, he predicted.

"Information isn't a free service," Lambe said. "Every customer helps pay for it whether he or she ever calls information. What we want to do is charge those who call it a lot and take the burden off those who don't."

Cost exceeds
PCHA budget

By M. C. RADEMACHER
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Room rates will go up by $10 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, as well as at the three other Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) facilities in the area.

The rate change became effective yesterday following approval by the PCHA Board of Directors last Thursday evening.

The new rate schedule will boost daily room costs for a semi-private room from $76 to $86, according to Dr. Karl Klicka, executive director of the PCHA.

He estimated that 98 percent of the occupancy in the hospitals is semi-private, with very few private rooms.

The rate increase follows only five months after a $5 boost that was approved by the board in the spring.

At that time, rates jumped from $71 to $76 for a semi-private room.

In addition to room cost increases, other specific patient services also will cost more, Klicka said. These general supportive services have been "adjusted upward," although Klicka could not give a specific percentage increase since the jumps varied. Such services would include physical, respiratory and occupational therapies.

Even with the increases in rates, Klicka said the costs still are competitive. "There isn't anybody in the area lower — most are higher," he added. "There is only one hospital in our survey that might be lower, and that is only by $1."

"Most other hospital rates are at or about our rates, or substantially higher."

The reason for the rate increases was given as an attempt to keep up with costs that weren't expected to be so high when the budget was adopted.

"When we increase the rates, we relate them to general income operating needs," he said. "The budget on which the old rates were based was insufficient to cover salaries."

Fresh from the presses

Get into fall spirit with cider

The taste-tempting combination of tangy cider and homemade doughnuts is an exhilarating way for Michiganders to get into the spirit of the fall season, according to automobile Club of Michigan.

"Motorists will find that combining a trip to a cider mill with a fall color tour provides a unique and fun-filled activity the whole family may enjoy," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

"Cider seems to be enjoyed most when quaffed outdoors or while watching the huge mill wheel turn slowly," he added. "Youngsters in particular will enjoy seeing the unfermented apple juice being extracted by means of a press and then delight in drinking the sweet juice."

Twenty-three of the mills are located in Southeast Michigan while 19 are in East Michigan and 17 are in West Michigan.

Nearby cider mills for Western Wayne County residents to sample cider and doughnuts are the Franklin Cider Mill located on Franklin Road in Franklin, with hours from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily through Dec. 7; Foreman (The Cider Barrel), located on West Seven Mile Road in Northville; Parmenter's on Baseline Road in Northville, open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily through Nov. 23; Wiard's on Merritt Road in Ypsilanti, open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily year-round; and South Huron Road in New Boston, open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. through Apr. 1.

Cider mills vary in character from the most modern endeavor complete with hydraulic presses to the small family operation that uses gear-driven machinery.

Some mills have apple orchards where the ripe fruit may be picked while others permit customers to bring in their own apples and containers for pressing. The best time for picking apples is from early September through October.

Visiting a cider mill can be a day-long activity since some of the mills feature such things as flea markets, horse-drawn wagon rides, gift shops, restaurants and picnic tables.

"Since pressing often is done on an irregular schedule, persons wishing to view such operations should make a telephone check before starting out," Ratke advised.

Rep. Ford blasts bill, but votes in support

A compromise school lunch bill, passed by the House of Representatives, has drawn sharp criticism from Michigan Congressman William D. Ford.

Ford had voted in favor of the bill, but termed it a "watered-down version," saying it "does not contain all of what I had hoped for, nor what I fought for for the past eight months."

In a speech to his colleagues in the House, Ford said even though it was not what he had hoped would be passed, the "legislation represents a significant expansion of the vitally important school lunch program and other nutrition programs."

As passed by the House, 380 to 7, the bill authorizes $2.6 billion for the current fiscal year. It is targeted primarily toward children in families with annual incomes under $8,770. Such children would be eligible for free lunches, while those with family incomes up to $9,770 would be eligible for reduced rates—a charge of no more than 20 cents.

Congressman Ford, who served on a joint House-Senate Conference Committee which reported the final bill for action, had earlier won House approval of an amendment to provide reduced-price lunches for children of unemployed parents, regardless of income. This was watered down in Conference to re-establish family income guidelines, even for the unemployed.

The legislation was weakened by the Senate on the rationale of staying within budget limits.

Ford noted, however, that the Senate cut the school lunch funding by nearly 10 percent, but in a related action, reduced the military procurement authorization by only 1 percent.

"This represents the type of distorted priorities that I have been fighting for years," Ford said. "I would rather help middle-income Americans provide their children with adequate nutrition than help increase the already swollen Pentagon budget."

SPECIAL MESSAGE

From Terry L. Troutt, Mayor of Romulus

TO: The Citizens of Romulus:

WHEN YOU ELECTED me mayor of our City in November of 1973, I had made a humble plea to you based on the fact that Romulus was going backwards. We offered you a platform and we pulled no punches in making progress in every area for the people and Romulus. Everyone by now knows what we have accomplished—thanks to all the Romulus Citizens who helped.

ALTHOUGH WE HAVE made many improvements together, we realize there is more to be done to make Romulus the city everyone wants it to be. I believe we have made a good start toward that goal during the past two years. We are, indeed, proud that we have been able to hold the line on city taxes, even though we have made many improvements.

HOWEVER, my opponent is trying to sell the people a bill of goods with rumors, deceptions and hand-shakes. While he is trying to gain public attention in his make-believe campaign, he has offered no answers or solutions to any of our problems. He merely complains. He is an expert complainer and a master of gloom. He thinks deception and sympathy will get him elected.

I WOULD LIKE TO GO ON RECORD as saying that I would rather lose on the facts than win by fooling the people. I would rather have your trust—not your sympathy.

THE TRUST OF OUR citizens means so much to the Troutt Administration that we submitted two bond proposals recently to a vote by the people instead of taxing the people against their will. I am against, and will always be against any increase in our taxes without the approval of the people of Romulus.

ROMULUS IS MY HOME and I completely respect the will of the people of Romulus.

I WOULD LIKE TO URGE our citizens to let the truth guide your conscience when you vote on Nov. 4, regardless of party affiliations or loyalties. Not the deceptive apple-pie-in-the-sky promises being made by a slippery politician who has voted against issues that are good for all of us.

PLEASE, feel free to come to City Hall and investigate the records and facts for yourself. They are open to everyone. I believe you will be convinced of the truth. You will be convinced that my opponent is not telling the truth in this election campaign.

IF YOU get the idea that we don't expect your vote by sweet talk and deceptions, you are right. I am sure you don't operate that way either.

Thank you.

Very sincerely,

Terry L. Troutt

Graves retires

Falahee fills utility's general counsel post

The senior vice-president and general counsel for Consumers Power Co. has elected early retirement, effective today, while the company's board of directors has named James B. Falahee general counsel and chief legal officer, effective tomorrow.

Retiring from the firm is Harold P. Graves, 58, who plans to maintain his contract with the legal profession even though he has retired.

Graves has been general counsel of the company for 18 years.

He received a bachelor of arts degree from Calvin College in Grand Rapids in 1938 and a juris doctor degree from the University of Michigan Law School in 1941. In 1941 and 1942 he was a research assistant for the Judge Edward M. Sharpe, Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court. He was assistant prosecuting attorney in Bay County, Mich. In 1943 and again from 1946 to 1948. He served as assistant city attorney in Bay City from 1949 to 1952 and was in private law practice in that community in 1952 and 1953.

Graves joined Consumers Power as an attorney in February 1953. He became a general attorney in 1955 and was named general counsel in January 1958. In 1970 he was elected vice-president and general counsel. In March 1975 he was elected senior vice-president general counsel, continuing in his capacity as the company's chief legal officer.

As planning agency

SEMCOG heads pollution battle

In an effort to combat the further pollution of the resources of the southeastern section of the state, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) will involve local residents, elected officials and technicians to work on the problem of planning water quality management.

It will take the work of such people and the cooperation of the hundreds of governmental units in southeast Michigan, to seek out sources of pollution in the region and, once under control, insure that control of these sources of pollution is maintained, a SEMCOG spokesman said.

Pollution is divided into two major categories: point source pollution and non-point source pollution.

Point source pollution is generated from a specific point, such as an industrial plant or a power plant. Such sources of pollution can be attacked and eradicated on a point-by-point basis.

Non-point sources of pollution, however, are more difficult to treat. This pollution comes, for example, from runoff after a rainstorm, picking up rubber from the streets, gasoline, oil, bits of paper and decaying organic matter, even chemical fertilizers, along the way.

For example, if a certain concentration of a chemical is dumped just once into the Detroit River, it perhaps could kill some fish at its point of entry. But as it mixes with the vast amount of water which flows by — 190,000 cubic feet per second, — it would become so diluted that its effects would be negligible.

But load that same chemical into the river day in and day out, and thousands of pounds of that pollutant go into our water system over a period of years. Concentrations can produce overloading; loading can produce extreme concentrations of pollutants.

Pollution of southeast Michigan's waters takes many forms. Aside from the bacterial contamination resulting from domestic sewage, contaminants found in the region's water include:

- Inert suspensions, or tiny particles of matter that wash into the water from, for example, open mines.
- Poisons, the by-products of many industries.
- Inorganic reducing agents, also the by-product of industry.
- Oil, which can taint an enormous area of water.
- Organic residues, which include domestic sewage and a variety of agricultural and commercial sources.
- Heat produced by many industries which use water for cooling.

The danger of these pollutants can vary from robbing water of oxygen, necessary for animal life, to causing a population explosion among algae and certain 1-celled organisms; to bacterial and chemical poisoning, the spokesman said.

FESTIVAL HIGHLIGHT — The "very successful" Old Tyme Festival, sponsored by the Belleville Bicentennial Committee, featured the appearance of Michigan's Bicentennial Covered Wagon. The treasured relic brought to Belleville from its headquarters in Lansing is being driven by George Miller of Augusta Township. The vehicle is being drawn by two Belgian horses, owned by Orlo Roberts, of Belleville. The festival held Sept. 20 also featured various displays of arts and crafts and fun activities. — The Enterprise-Roman photo.

Romulus birthday club says 'bye' to Helen

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

There's a "Birthday Club" in Romulus that's been meeting for about six years to share members' natal dates. But the get-together on Sept. 22 was a bit different since it was a farewell party as well as an early birthday celebration for Helen Whorton who is moving to Kentucky.

Held at the home of Reba Fry on Westvale Street, the 11:30 a.m. gathering featured cake, ice cream and jello and was followed by the presentation of a crockpot from the group as a remembrance of the occasion.

Members attending were Ruth Williams, Monique Laskaska, Pearl Cotham, Ann Sturtz, Emma Newsom and Gail Fry. Guests were Mary Dee Abernathy of Tennessee, Patty Maitland and Linda Sturtz of Westland; Kista Bryant of Belleville and Bernice Lanier of Romulus.

The honoree and her husband, Everett, will be leaving Romulus the end of the month to make their home in Tiline, Ky. Having retired from McClouth Steel, the man of the house chose his home state in which to spend his leisure years.

Shower honors couple

Pat Silvey, who will be an October bride, and her fiancé Michael Hunter, had the pleasure of opening gifts for their future home Sept. 7 when 90 friends gathered for a shower in their honor.

The Romulus Community United Methodist Church, which has been reserved for the autumn nuptials, was the setting for the afternoon party which included games and a buffet luncheon. Dusty pink and teal blue decorations carried out the color scheme of the wedding with a pink, heart-shaped cake made by Jan Lemmon serving as centerpiece.

Guests included women from southern Wayne County and the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Richard Silvey, who came from Lewiston especially for the occasion.

Hostesses were friends, Marge McCrory and Jan Lemmon of Romulus and the bride's sister, Diane Strachan of Westland.

Before dining, guests watched the young couple open their gifts. Giving them a hand were their four future attendants, Joy Szczepanski and Kathy Drysdale of Romulus; Marg Silvey of Belleville and Diane Strachan who's to be honor attendant.

In the NI bleachers

Under an overcast sky Saturday, Sept. 20, Chet and Mary Kosin watched Northwood Institute (NI) go down to defeat at the hands of Kentucky's Georgetown College 41-34. The occasion was the second annual Fall Parents' Day held on the Midland campus of NI.

The Kosin's son, Michael, is a freshman in the automotive marketing and management field. Mike's sisters, Mary and Rita, also came up for the day from Oregon, Ohio.

Mike (the name dropper, his mother says) informed his family that Al Worden is in some of his classes. Al's father is Apollo 15 astronaut Alfred M. Worden who, with his wife, was seated in front of the Kosins during the game.

Tailgate party time

Lucky enough to have a decent day tucked into an otherwise dreary September, two Romulus couples were able to watch the Michigan-Stanford game in Ann Arbor without being drenched or frostbitten.

Jerry and Mindy Gray and Chuck and Jan Brewer were among several UM boosters who got together for a tailgate picnic prior to the game. With sandwiches, drinks and dishes to pass in tow, they joined friends and business associates from Battle Creek, E. Lansing, Coldwater and Sylvania, Ohio.

Luanne is "showered"

When young friends and relatives of Luanne Smith opened invitations to the Sept. 20 shower in her honor, they were tagged "Whim and a Fancie." Gifts were to be geared according to the honoree's hobbies, favorite pastimes and personal preferences.

The bride-elect's cousin, Mary Ann Emerson, welcomed guests to her home on Martinsville Road — a cluster of colorful balloons on the mail box pointing out the party house. A close childhood and school friend of Luanne's, Karen (Skszek) Mida, was co-hostess for the Saturday afternoon party which began with a do-it-yourself salad buffet.

The ivory and salmon wedding color scheme was used at the tables which were centered with dried flower arrangements and little clothespin bride dolls created by Karen who also made and decorated the shower cake.

In lieu of party games, the group was handed envelopes with "Dear Abby" type questions enclosed. They were given time to think about their "advice" and then, as their gifts were opened, they read and answered the queries—some turning out very humorous and others sentimentally serious. Mary Ann and her sister-in-law, Grace Sietz of Trenton, taped the entire session and then presented Luanne with the cassette as a memento of the party.

Winners of dried flower arrangements and potted plants were determined by stars on the questions. Taking home the "Karen creations" were Linda Temple of Midland, the maid of honor who recorded the gifts as they were opened; Bernadette Sietz of Dexter, the bride-elect's cousin; Cecelia Ilfenfelt of Dearborn, a Kalamazoo College friend and Sue Smith who was home from Western Michigan University for her sister's party.

The 16 guests attending drove in from Ann Arbor, Midland, Dearborn, Trenton, Southfield, Dexter, Ypsilanti and Belleville.

Luanne is to be married to Peter Schonfeld on Oct. 24. The prospective bridegroom currently is a graduate student at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill.

SHADES OF COUNT DRACULA! — For any interesting undertaking, there are always the behind-the-scenes activities and the recent Belleville-Van Buren Bicentennial festivities called for just such action. In preparing for the very popular "Haunted House" which attracted hundreds of residents and non-residents alike, there was the big task of making up the characters. Gayle Patterson (left) used her expertise on Bill Buchanan who was one of the many "Ghouls" who managed to frighten the onlookers.

Hawaiian trip follows nuptials

Two former Western Michigan University students, Sherry L. Humm and Timothy W. Skszek, exchanged wedding bands and vows in a recent summer ceremony at First Presbyterian Church of Farmington.

Satin bows and candles marked the aisle pews and two arrangements of carnations and roses graced the altar for the 6 p.m. rite. The Rev. George Ramsey officiated and Carolee McDaniels provided organ music.

The bride is the daughter of Kenneth R. Humm of 35630 Lyman Road, Farmington Hills. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skszek of 49899 Expressway, Belleville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white organza patterned in the empire mode with a set-in waistband accented with blue ribbon and lace. The scoop neck featured a double layer collar and the softly flared skirt terminated in a flounce and chapel train.

In lieu of a veil the bride chose to wear a wide brimmed white hat trimmed with rose appliques and white lace interwoven with blue ribbon which fell in streamers down the back. A bouquet of white carnations, roses, orchids and trailing ivy completed her bridal finery.

The bride's best friend and college roommate, Joyce Hansen of Traverse City, was her only attendant. Her powder blue jersey knit frock was designed with a high-rise waist and cape collar. She, too, wore a wide brimmed hat with ribbon streamers. Daisies and carnations were used to form her bouquet.

The bridegroom asked Vern Gowen of Belleville to be best man. Ushers were Joe Schiaffo of Lincoln Park and Frank Horton of Belleville, both college roommates of the groom.

At the reception which followed at Cordoba's in Livonia, the 100 guests were greeted by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Skszek, in an apricot polyester knit formal gown styled with caped butterfly sleeves. She wore a wrist corsage to harmonize with her outfit.

After a week-long honeymoon in Hawaii, the newlyweds took up residence at 1040 Klotz Road, Bowling Green, Ohio.

The new Mrs. Skszek was a medical technology major at Western Michigan University (WMU) for three years and now is completing her education at Bowling Green State University.

Her husband graduated from WMU with a bachelor of science degree in metallurgical engineering. A member of the American Society of Metals and American Foundry Men's Society, he currently is employed by General Motors in Defiance, Ohio.

The bridegroom's parents played host at the rehearsal dinner which was held at Lim's of Farmington.

Players rehearse for child matinee

The Belleville area's own little theatre group, "The Players," is in full swing with its fall schedule. The group made its return engagement at the Lemontree; the apartment complex hosting its "Cocktail Theatre" on Sept. 26 with two 1-act skits from "Strangers and Other Lovers."

"The Players" also will perform another 1-act vignette from the same play at 6:30 p.m. before the American Business Women's Assoc. at their Oct. 7 meeting being held at Vigo's Restaurant in Ypsilanti.

At the present time "The Players" have embarked on a brand new venture. It's a children's play being readied for two matinee performances at 1 and 3 p.m. Oct. 25 at North Junior High School. "Sir Slob and the Princess" will present a cast of Halloween characters, all of whom zanily attempt to dissuade the young hero from completing the king's test to win the hand of the beautiful princess.

The 50-cent admission will embroil the young audience in the contagious, fanciful fun of fooling the glib but winning Sir Slob. With the double characterization of the queen (witch), the wizard (lion), and the herald (giant), their bagful of tricks should prove a real treat for Belleville area youngsters this Halloween.

Savages return from 2-month Alaskan tour

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021

After a 2-month vacation spent in Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. James Savage of Robbe Road have returned home. While gone they spent some time with their son, Gerald and wife and their two daughters, Sarah and Jennifer at Fairbanks; and their son, Don and wife and their 7-weeks old baby girl, Dana Elizabeth, at Dillingham.

They also toured the Kenai Peninsula and returned home to the mainland via the inside passage and western Canada.

A former Third Street resident, Mrs. Jack (Myrtle) Sherlock of Reading, Mich., was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Eva Duquette, and other relatives last week.

Mrs. Darryl H. Raymond Sr. of Wabash Street, who was a recent patient at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, was able to return home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Hatch of Church Street were host to Mr. and Mrs. James G. Jenkins of Arcadia, Calif. and Mrs. Ira Buckner of Daytona Beach, Fla., the former's sisters this past week. They spent three days in the vicinity of Gaylord at the Chalet.

While there they called on a niece, Ann Ballou at Traverse City, who is teaching in that community.

Later in the week they had dinner with the Hatches daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy of Troy, and spent some time at Albion visiting a nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Ballou.

Although the fall colors were just beginning in isolated areas in the North, the tour was delightful for the guests who had not visited the home area for many years.

Weekend guests at the home of Mrs. S. C. Pierman of East Huron River Drive were her sisters, Mrs. Joseph Allen of Piqua, Ohio, and Mrs. Lewis Pierman of Ottawa, Ohio.

Mrs. Chester (Leona) Baker of Liberty Street underwent surgery at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, Sept. 22. Her room number is 635 Bed 1.

In celebration of her birthday, Dorothy Mason was a guest of Virginia Wall, Gertrude Mason and Alice Herkimer at a dinner at the Flaming Pit Sept. 24.

Shirley Orskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Orskey of Martinsville Road, has been a patient at St. Joseph Hospital the past week.

Phyllis Seaman of Savage Road, Esther Deering of West Columbia Avenue and Dorothy Kellas of Margery Street recently attended a luncheon meeting at the home of Doris Milliman, Regent of Ypsilanti Chapter D.A.R. It being constitutional week, the program was given by Mrs. Alan Stewart. Boxes of clothing were packed to be sent to Tamassee School at Tamassee, S.C.

Mrs. Frank (Clara) Hoag of Liberty Street has been a patient at the University of Michigan Medical Center the past week.

There's place for everything in the garage

"A place for everything and everything in its place" is an ideal homeowners strive for but don't always achieve," according to Joe Cox, extension landscape architect at Michigan State University.

"Somehow there never are enough places and too many things, so everything with nowhere else to go tends to collect in the garage or basement and turns every walk through the area into an obstacle course."

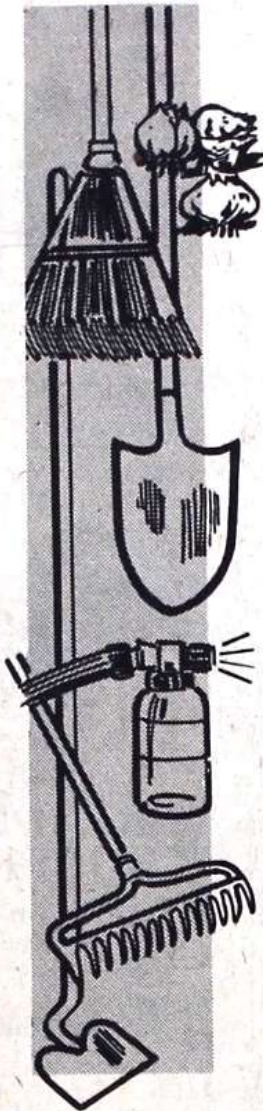

Items like outdoor furniture, lawn mowers, gardening tools and storm windows, which are used only part of the year and must be stored the rest of the time, often pose a considerable storage problem. One solution is to get rid of some of those things you don't use but keep around because "you never know when they might come in handy," Cox said.

If an item still is usable, sell it or give it to someone who can get some use out of it, Cox suggested. If it's outlived its usefulness, get rid of it.

Another possibility is to make better use of the space that is available. Interior garage walls represent a lot of potential storage space—shelving or pegboards or hooks to hang things on make it usable.

Avoid storing flammable liquids—such as gasoline for the power mower—sharp tools or pesticides on open shelves, Cox warned. If you must store these, prevent accidents by keeping them safely locked away in a sturdy cabinet.

If a separate storage structure looks like the answer think in terms of quality and permanence, Cox says. Metal storage buildings should be made of sturdy, well braced material that will survive high winds and stand up under the weight of a load of wet snow.

Here's how

Winterize lawns for cold

Old Man Winter is on his way, but lawns and gardens in Western Wayne County should be ready for him if homeowners follow some timely suggestions on winterizing their lawns for the cold weather ahead.

For those residents whose lawns are bedecked with an array of plants, remember these tips:

—Protect rose bushes against winter damage that may mean an end of the bright blooms.

—Clean up all dead iris foliage and destroy those plants that are damaged badly.

—Mulch those strawberry and raspberry plants and don't let green tomatoes die on the vines. Although they may be green when you pick them, store them in newspapers in the basement and ripen them as you need them. Or try hanging the entire plant upside down in the basement, the fruit will continue to ripen for some time.

Or try these methods for getting ready for winter:

—Plant or transplant

peonies and other spring flowering perennials.

—If apple scab was a problem this year, rake up and destroy fallen leaves and fruit, then spray the tree with Benlate.

—Clean refuse from the vegetable garden. Fertilize, add organic matter and plow. Be sure to burn all diseased material.

—Dig up vegetable crops and store in a cool, frost-free place. Parsnips, Jerusalem artichokes and carrots may be in the ground if you mulch them and mark their location.

—Pot bulbs for indoor forcing this month. Bury them outdoors or place them in a root cellar outdoors for several weeks before bringing them inside.

—Fertilize actively growing house plants.

—Control insects that may have infested houseplants while they were outdoors.

—Protect young fruit trees and ornamentals from winter rodent damage with a cylinder of hardware cloth around the trunks.

—Prune deciduous shrubs that need it after the leaves have fallen and the plants are dormant.

—Remove ground covers that have overgrown sidewalks, driveways and patios.

—Trim shade trees and shrubs of limbs or branches that obstruct view or interfere with maintenance work.

—Fertilize new and established lawns.

—Keep mowing the lawn as long as the grass keeps growing.

—Remove the dead tops of flowering perennials.

—Dig dahlia, canna, caladium and begonia tubers after the first killing frost.

Landscape consumer?

You probably don't think of yourself as a landscape consumer, because you don't consume a landscape the same way you consume a hot fudge sundae.

But you can consume the land whenever you change it and, by changing it, you control how it will be used in the future.

"When we talk about landscape consumption, we're thinking mostly of those people who are building new homes in open country, or second or vacation homes in new country where a pattern of planned land development has not yet been thought through," one landscape specialist said. "Building that home means diverting the land from its former use, and as far as that former use is concerned, the land has been consumed."

To make sure your building project improves the land, he suggests keeping these questions in mind as you plan changes:

—How can I develop this place to provide for the needs of my family without disturbing the environment?

—How can I assess and interpret the potentials of the site so that I can stretch my construction dollars and yet still have a low-maintenance property, in both dollars and environmental costs?

—How can I meet my needs while minimizing the drain on our natural resources?

Harvest work doesn't end

The garden work isn't done when the harvest is finished. "The fall garden cleanup is an important step for controlling disease and insect problems in next year's garden," says Jesse Saylor, Michigan State University horticulturist. "Many disease organisms and insects can overwinter in garden debris. If you don't clear them out in the fall, they'll be there, waiting, when you plant next spring."

Debris from plants that suffered from diseases or that may be harboring insects should not be put into the compost pile, Saylor emphasized. Instead, bag it and carry it away or burn it or bury it some distance from the garden spot.

"Be especially conscientious about removing fallen fruit and leaves under fruit trees," he advised. "Scab and many other diseases will overwinter in the leaves and pose an even more serious problem next year."

Part of the fall garden wrap-up is completing your records of this year's garden.

"Records are an easy-to-neglect but important part of successful gardening," Saylor declared. "Writing down which varieties you chose, how well they yielded, how well your family liked their produce and whether they had any particular disease problems will help you choose your varieties next year."

Are the 'greatest'

Butz: Farmers vs. inflation

By TOM OCHILTREE
Panax Washington Bureau

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz wants to hear it — good and loud — for the American farmer, "the greatest inflation fighter in the country."

While many other segments of American society have been staggering around like a drunk in a revolving door, American agriculture has set a record high in productivity 1 percent above the previous records in 1971 and 1973 and 7 percent above the showing in 1974.

Butz is haunted by the feeling that the public at large does not appreciate adequately the contribution American farmers have made to the well being of the entire country.

Appearing recently before the House Agriculture Committee, Butz came armed with figures to put the record straight.

He said: "When the credits are handed out for pulling our economy out of the doldrums this year, the American farmer rightfully will be first in line — first among few, in fact."

"Doubts have been raised over whether some others of us still can hack it in today's world. Detroit worries about its ability to compete in car making."

"Washington agonizes over how to get people to save energy and rely less

'Meanwhile, the farmer has been busy working...'

on foreign oil. New York can't muster the discipline to save itself from financial humiliation.

"Meanwhile, the farmer has been busy working. And now the results of his efforts are becoming apparent. I think the record should show American farmers have done a magnificent job of fighting inflation."

To support his point Butz, former dean of agriculture at Purdue University, told the committee:

"American farm products sold abroad last year amounted to $21 billion and should total about the same this year. All but $1 billion of this amount was paid for in cash."

When agricultural imports are subtracted, American farmers added over $12 billion on the positive side to the U.S. balance of payments.

Feed grain production this time may turn out to be one-fifth larger than the drought-shortened crop of 165 million tons harvested last year.

Average retail food price increases in the 1973-74 crop year amounted to 14 percent, with four-fifths of that tacked on after the products left the farm. The 1974-75 crop year witnessed price jumps of around 9 percent, "but most increases of that size are behind us now," Butz insisted.

He defended the current negotiations to sell grain to the Soviet Union, explaining that American farmers "need markets for their record or near record crops and that means exports."

He predicted the Russian purchases would increase domestic food prices no more than 1½ percent more than they would have gone up anyway.

Butz conceded that the sporadic nature of Soviet grain purchases from the United States in recent years constituted "a destabilizing factor in the world grain market," and added: "These grain sales have become an emotional issue, a sort of quasi-political issue."

He expected the emotional overtones to fade once the American-Soviet grain agreement was finalized, putting this trade between the countries on a long term, more regular basis with the Russians specifying their annual requirements and the Americans promising to supply specified annual minimums.

"We have the grain to send to the Russians and to meet the needs of other countries around the world," he said. "And after all that we still will have a carry-over in some crops."

"We estimate 60% of our business comes from the Yellow Pages alone. As further proof of how sold we are on the Yellow Pages, we advertise in three different books, under a variety of different headings. We have found that it pays to design separate ads for aluminum siding, patios, or what have you, instead of using one catch-all ad under every heading. But the most important thing is to make sure you advertise where people look for you, and that's the Yellow Pages." — Gary Moore, Bonded Weather Control Products, Inc. 1661 South Telegraph, Pontiac.

"I am making plans to expand my Yellow Pages advertising to other directories throughout the state. I am a new advertiser, who previously used other methods of bringing my company name before the people who'd be interested in my services. But, since my ads appeared in the Yellow Pages, I find myself depending more and more on them, and less on other methods I was using." — Lewis E. More food for your money at Chatham.

SUPPLEMENT TO ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS AND YPSILANTI PRESS

Independent research proved it...again!

Which supermarket chain has the lowest food prices? An independent research company set out to get the answer. The result. Chatham was proved to have the lowest prices on the food you buy most.

Shopping was done over a four-week period. And each week over 100 items were checked, meats, frozen foods, produce, canned goods . . . the items you buy most. All major chains were compared in the survey. When the bills were added up, the survey proved that you get more food for your money at Chatham.

For survey summary, write: National Market Research, 120 Route 9 W, Englewood Cliffs, N.J. 07632.

A LOAF OF BREAD IS A LOAF OF BREAD-OR IS IT?

Are you a traditionalist who reveres bread as the staff of life? A dieter who avoids it as "nothing but calories and carbohydrates"? A fast-food freak who uses bread as a base for peanut butter? Or maybe you're a purist who suspects all white bread and additives? Before you choose or refuse this basic food, chew on a few basic truths.

Myth...Bread is just calories. Your diet will never miss it.
FACT...Bread is a basic source of "B" vitamins, (such as thiamine and riboflavin. Bread also provides iron, calcium, and supplementary protein.

Myth...White bread is less nutritious than dark bread.
FACT...There is very little difference between white and whole wheat bread, provided the white bread, is made from enriched flour.

Myth..."Natural", or whole grain breads are nutritional-ly better than regular white loaves.

FACT...Whole grain breads offer one more fiber. "Natural" or not, almost all bread sold commercially contains some additives, which are used to prevent spoilage.

PRICES EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 6 THRU OCTOBER 12, 1976. WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES.
